Theology for Everyone – On not Leaving it to the Theologians!

Bishop Laurie Green

Thinking about faith and the difference Christian faith makes in the world is a task for all Christians and it's called 'doing theology.' Bishop Laurie Green has spent much of his career insisting that theological reflection is for all of us and that we aren't leave it to the theologians. This workshop will help you begin or improve your own reflection on the ways and works of God in the world.

Islam for Anglicans: Understanding the Quran

Revd Dr Stephen Laird

What is the Quran; who wrote it, when and why; how do Muslims use and interpret it; Jesus in the Quran; modern study of the Quran?

What does the Comic teach the Preacher?

Revd Ravi Holy

You will explore the similarities and the differences between comedy and preaching. This will include analysis of the work and techniques of some of the great comedians from the past and the present*

*Given that, this course may not be suitable for people who are easily offended and some of the routines studied will contain bad language and/or challenging ideas. Recommended for all who love both preaching and comedy and want to deliver better, more engaging sermons.

Is your love in vain? Reading Ecclesiastes and the Song of Songs

Dr Robin Plant

The Song of Songs and Ecclesiastes are part of Christian Scripture – but why? One doesn't mention God, in the other he seems very distant. One brims with erotic delight, the other exudes cynicism and disillusionment. In this illustrated, one-day course, we'll explore their meaning and message, and consider their significance for our faith and practice.
